BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The world war soldiers' relief bill became a law this afternoon when the Senate joined the House in passing the measure over the veto of President Hoover. The vote was 77-17 the most disastrous defeat Pres. Hoover has faced since taking office.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The $700,000,000 soldiers' bonus loan bill was enroute to the statute books today, with a vote in the senate overriding President Hoover's veto, assured by late afternoon.

Once the senate acts, the bill becomes a law, and administrative machinery will be started. It is the hope of many of its advocates, as well as those who voted against it, that only those veterans actually in need will apply for loans. The senate began debate on the question of overriding the President as soon as it met, after the technical requirement that the veto message be read had been settled last night.

DEBATE IS ON

Senators Reed (R) of Pennsylvania, and Smoot (R) of Utah, were to lead the forlorn hope of sustaining the President, but at last the debate was expected to occupy no more than a few hours. In the house, the President gained 40 votes over the original bill. In the senate it was conceded he might gain a few. The house vote on passage with 363 to 39, and to override the veto, it was 328 to 79.

The senate passed the bill by a vote of 72 to 12. With the same proportion voting today, the bonus advocates could lose 14 votes and still the bill would become a law. The President in his veto message drew aside the veil and discredited many of the arguments for the legislation.

Declaring the "sole appeal for reopening the bonus act" was to aid the veterans in distress because of the drought and business depression, the President told Congress the "utility of the legislation is far less than has been disclosed."

He said: "The popular assumption has been that as the certificates average $1,000, then each veteran can obtain $500 by way of a loan. But this is only an average, and more than one half will receive less than this amount. In fact, over 800,000 men will be able to borrow less than $200, and of these over 200,000 men will be able to borrow only an average of $75."

Diary May Find Woman's Slayer

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Aroused by the greatest tumult since the killing of Herman Rosenthal in 1912, 100 policemen today sought the stranger of Vivian Gordon, attractive night club habituée, who was found murdered shortly before her scheduled appearance before the Seabury Appellate Court division's inquiry into cases of police framing of women.

Authorities said the present crime recalled the one 19 years ago, which sent police lieutenant Charles Becker to the electric chair. Both came at the peak of drives against police corruption.

The body of the woman who had written to the Seabury investigators that she had important information for them, was found yesterday in Van Cortlandt Park, where it had been dragged or thrown.

DIARIES FOUND

Three diaries found in the woman's apartment were said by police to contain names of "important people." From information obtained from the books, police took into custody two men and held them for questioning. They gave their names as John Radeloff of Brooklyn, attorney for Mrs. Gordon, and Sam Cohen, a client of the attorney.

According to Police Commissioner Mulrooney, Cohen, alias Charles Harris, has a police record. Mulrooney also said Radeloff had stated he had told Mrs. Gordon not to reveal information to Seabury investigators.

"The only man I have to fear is Radeloff. He could get Cohen or henchman to do away with me," said one of the diaries, according to Mulrooney.

Mrs. Gordon, it was revealed, was arrested in 1923 on a charge of immorality which resulted in her being sent to a reformatory. Patrolman Andrew J. McLaughlin, who made the arrest, was expected to return here tomorrow from a vacation in Bermuda. Mulrooney said he wanted to question McLaughlin.

Radeloff told Mrs. Gordon, he said, that her case was eight years old and urged her it would do no good to bring it to the attention of the authorities, according to Mulrooney. Mrs. Gordon, Radeloff was quoted as saying, then declared she was "going to get McLaughlin."

CLOTHESLINE USED

Mrs. Gordon had been strangled by a clothes line. She had been dead about five hours when the body was found by a passerby.

Frank Ryan, a taxicab driver, told police that at 2:30 o'clock yesterday morning he had witnessed a struggle in another car between a woman and two men. He heard the woman scream several times.

The dispatch says "Ohio will have 30 other projects involving approximately $3,000,000 up for consideration at the regular session of Congress next December. Although the names of the cities which will receive these projects are not revealed a check of postal receipts shows that among those likely to be favored with recommendation for allocation of building funds are Circleville and East Palestine."

SUVA, Fiji, Feb. 27.—At least 230 islanders lost their lives and damage in excess of $250,000 was inflicted in the Fiji Islands this week by one of the worst hurricanes ever experienced here, it was learned today with re-establishment of communications.

Terrific winds and floods devastated the districts of Lautoka, Nandi, Ba and Sigatoka, where hundreds of natives were rendered homeless by the storm. During the disturbance the barometer plunged to as low as 28.78 degrees.

The new turtle reef lighthouse was swept into the sea, while government and private buildings, stores and livestock suffered extensively from the powerful tropical blast. A landslide crushed part of a Fijian village, killing twelve of its inhabitants.

The Rewa river burst its banks and added to the misery by flooding away hundreds of islanders' homes. Many of the refugees were reported to have drowned along with valuable cattle. A European family of eight was believed to have drowned at Sigatoka.

Torrential rain fell incessantly during the protracted storm.

PICKAWAY IS VICTOR

Ashville, Walnut Girls Advance in Hot Games

Saltcreek and Pickaway-twins in the boys' class, and Ashville and Walnut-twp went to the semi-finals in the girls' class of the annual Pickaway-co tournament being staged at the C. A. C. gym here in the greatest evening of basketball the tournament has afforded Thursday. While these four teams were advancing it was quite necessary that four other teams fall by the wayside. They were New Holland succumbing before a deliberate, but effective Saltcreek offense, 17-8; Monroe girls before Ashville's slashing attack, 26-16; Scioto-twp before Pickaway's great team, 26-13, and Pickaway girls before the versatile Walnut-twp sextet, 28-24 in a hard-fought overtime game.

RESUMED TONIGHT

The tournament will be resumed at 7 p. m. Friday when the semi-finals round will be played. The first game this evening will see Saltcreek, New Holland's nemesis, striving to eliminate the tough Jackson-twp five. The second encounter will be between Ashville's champs and Scioto's challengers. The Scioto team is the only one to defeat Ashville during the past year. The third game will be between Ashville's surprising boys and the Pickaway-twp aggregation. In the fourth contest Walnut-twp will try to eliminate Darby-twp lasties.

Saying that the Saltcreek-New Holland game was one of the most interesting of the tournament is not a bit of prevarication. New Holland took a lead in the 1st period 3-1, when defense was the feature of the scrap. Saltcreek worked the ball under the net for more shots than New Holland but couldn't connect. In the second quarter defense was again the program and at halftime New Holland led 5-3. In the third period the Miller-coached lads from Saltcreek appeared a little more aggressive and took the lead from the Pierson-lads holding a one-point margin at the three-quarter mark, 7 to 6.

Then Saltcreek got hot. With only four minutes to play Saltcreek was leading 10-8.

Seven points in the last four minutes were chalked while New Holland went scoreless. Timmons, New Holland guard and captain, scored great ball for his team, but when he failed to receive any scoring support from his teammates he tired.

Without a doubt, Chilly Chilcote, Saltcreek's tip-off man, is one of the finest ball-handlers in the tournament and with great interest will the duel between him and Cecil Radecliff, Jackson's center, be LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 27.—Striking textile operatives at the Wood, Ayer and Wamsutter mills of the American Woolen Company and those made idle by the strike returned to the mills by the thousands today. Before 8 a. m., the wheels of the big plants were again humming.

The ending of the strike followed on the heels of the overthrow of seeming dictatorship by five officials of the National Textile Workers' Union and the taking of an Australian ballot during the night at which the strike was officially voted at an end. The vote was 1,641 to 453, only 2,102 votes being cast, including eight blanks, out of a possible 9,600 operatives who had been out of work.

Miss Edith Berkman, of San Francisco and Patrick J. Devine, of Chicago and New Bedford, two of the strike leaders seized on charges of conspiracy to intimidate workers and destroy property, were out under bail totalling $36,000.

OHIO FACES "LEAN" YEAR

Auditor Tracy Asks For Utmost Retrenchment Because of Low Revenues.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27.—Facing the gloomy prospect of a "lean year" according to State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy, Ohio legislators today juggled their arithmetic in an effort to find a way out of the state's embarrassing financial situation.

Two methods were open to the legislators. One is the enactment of additional taxation laws. The other is by trimming and slashing appropriations to the minimum by reducing the salaries of state officials and employees or by temporarily, at least—curtailing certain governmental activities and completely halting others.

The warning of the state's financial condition was given to the legislators by Tracy who declared that the utmost retrenchment is necessary because of a heavy depletion in the state's revenues due to the industrial depression.

"Even with the utmost retrenchment in expenditures," Tracy said, "it does not seem possible to finance the necessary state activities during the biennium under the present revenue laws."

The state's general revenue fund, from which all salaries and operating expenses are paid, shows a deficit of $4,326,732.95, Tracy said. Disbursements from this fund last year, exclusive of rotaries and inter-departments, exceeded the net receipts by $5,195,694.93.

To Papers' Employees

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The World newspapers were said today to the Scripps-Howard chain following a ruling by Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Hughes, who gave the right to sell the properties of the World group, a provision to the contrary in will of their father, Joseph Pulitzer.

Justice Fley's decision was handed down shortly after midnight and announcement of the sale of The Morning World, Evening World and Sunday World Roy W. Howard, head of the chain, was made shortly afterward.

Under the terms, the morning and Sunday papers will go out of existence and the Evening World will be merged with the New York Telegram, to be called The World Telegram.

The sale price was reported to be $5,000,000.

In a statement by the Pulitzer family which appeared in the final edition of The Morning World, it is set forth that $500,000 of the proceeds will be distributed among employees under a plan to be announced later.

The statement by the Pulitzer family in part follows:

The World, The Evening World and the Sunday World have been sold to the Scripps-Howard chain, owners of the New York Telegram.

The three papers will be merged with the New York Telegram under the title New York World Telegram.

It is the intention of the trustees of the newspaper trust to set aside from the proceeds of the sale the sum of $500,000 to be distributed among employees under terms of a plan to be announced later.

The trustees of the newspaper trust to whom Joseph Pulitzer transferred the duty of carrying on the institution which he had founded and every possible effort to avoid sale of the World newspaper; but economic conditions have proved inexorable.

Had The World been nothing more than a commercial enterprise a sale might probably have been undertaken years before it has become compulsory. But its publication continued, year after year with heavy losses. For forty years it has done its duty as it was its duty, without fear or favor without private propaganda or special privilege.

When Vote is Taken in Massachusetts Town.

LAWRENCE, Mass., Feb. 27.—Striking textile operatives at the Wood, Ayer and Westinghouse mills of the American Woolen Company and those made idle by the strike returned to the mills by the thousands today. Before 8 a. m., the wheels of the big plants were again humming.

The ending of the strike followed on the heels of the overthrow of seeming dictatorship by five officials of the National Textile Workers' Union and the taking of an Australian ballot during the night at which the strike was officially voted at an end. The vote was 1,641 to 453, only 2,102 votes being cast, including eight blanks, out of a possible 9,600 operatives who had been out of work.

Miss Edith Berkman, of San Francisco and Patrick J. Devine, of Chicago and New Bedford, two of the strike leaders seized on charges of conspiracy to intimidate workers and destroy property, were out under bail totalling $86,000.

OHIO FACES "LEAN" YEAR

Auditor Tracy Asks For Utmost Retrenchment Because of Low Revenues.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27.—Facing the gloomy prospect of a "lean year" according to State Auditor Joseph T. Tracy, Ohio legislators today juggled their arithmetic in an effort to find a way out of the state's embarrassing financial situation.

Two methods were open to the legislators. One is the enactment of additional taxation laws. The other is by trimming and slashing appropriations to the minimum by reducing the salaries of state officials and employees or by temporarily, at least—curtailing certain governmental activities and completely halting others.

The warning of the state's financial condition was given to the legislators by Tracy who declared that the utmost retrenchment is necessary because of a heavy depletion in the state's revenues, due to the industrial depression.

"Even with the utmost retrenchment in expenditures," Tracy said, "it does not seem possible to finance the necessary state activities during the biennium under the present revenue laws."

The state's general revenue fund, from which all salaries and operating expenses are paid, shows a deficit of $4,326,752.95, Tracy said. Disbursements from this fund last year, exclusive of rotaries and inter-departments, exceeded the net receipts by $5,195,694.98.

SCRIPPS CHAIN BUYS "WORLD" FROM PULITZER

Court Gives Permission
For Sale Over Protest of Newspapers' Employees

STATEMENT IS MADE

Half Million to Be Given
To Papers' Employees

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The World newspapers were sold today to the Scripps-Howard chain, following a ruling by Surrogate James A. Foley that Ralph Herbert and Joseph Pulitzer had a right to sell the properties despite a provision to the contrary in the will of their father, Joseph Pulitzer.

Justice Foley's decision was handed down shortly after midnight and announcement of the sale of The Morning World, Evening World and Sunday World to Roy W. Howard, head of the chain, was made shortly thereafter.

Under the terms, the morning and Sunday papers will go out of existence and the Evening World will be merged with the New York Telegram, to be called The World-Telegram.

The sale price was reported to be $5,000,000.

In a statement by the Pulitzers, which appeared in the final edition of The Morning World, it is set forth that $500,000 of the price will be distributed among employees under a plan to be announced later.

The statement by the trustees, in part, follows:

The World, The Evening World and the Sunday World have been sold to the Scripps-Howard interests, owners of the New York Telegram.

The three papers will be merged with the New York Telegram under the title New York World-Telegram.

It is the intention of the trustees of the newspaper trust to set aside from the proceeds of the sale the sum of $500,000 to be distributed among employees under the terms of a plan to be announced later.

The trustees of the newspapers to whom Joseph Pulitzer entrusted the duty of carrying on the institution which he had founded made every possible effort to avoid a sale of the World newspaper; but economic conditions have proved inexorable.

Had The World been nothing more than a commercial enterprise a sale might profitably have been undertaken years before it has now become compulsory. But its publication continued, year after year, with heavy losses. For forty-eight years it has done its duty as it saw its duty, without fear or favor, without private propaganda or special privilege.

JOSEPH PULITZER,
HERBERT PULITZER,
Trustees.

IMPROVED RADIO RECEPTION OVER WIDE AREA ASSURED

WASHINGTON.—Improved radio reception for a wide area of the United States and especially the middle west was held assured by officials here today, with the application of station WLS, of Chicago, for a license to operate one-half time on its channel of 870 kilocycles with 50,000 watts power.

The application, filed with the Federal Radio Commission, will receive formal approval, since the "prairie farmer" station has held a construction permit for a 50,000 watt station more than a year.

Station WLS shares time on 870 kilocycles with station WENR, formerly operated by the Insul power interests, but recently leased to the National Broadcasting company with an option to purchase.

NEW HOTEL WING IS NOW PLANNED

ROANOKE, Va.—A modern, four-story addition, containing 60 rooms and with a 25 car garage in the basement, will be built by Hotel Roanoke to replace the old north wing of the hotel, it was announced today at the general offices of the Norfolk and Western Railway. The cost of the structure, exclusive of furnishings, will be approximately $180,000.

The new addition, which will be absolutely fireproof, is expected to be completed by Thanksgiving, in time to accommodate the Thanksgiving football crowd, which comes here for the annual turkey game V. M. I.—V. P. I. football game.

The architecture will conform with that of the hotel proper, carrying out the motif of an old English inn with its turrets, gables and casement windows. The new wing will give the hotel 200 modern rooms.

Hotel Roanoke is one of the oldest hostels in the city, being completed in 1882, and is widely known for its unusual architecture and its spacious grounds.

In his struggle to beat off the big shark which attacked him while he was swimming at Brisbane, Australia, 18-year-old Stanley Boser jammed a thumb in the eye of the man-eating fish and it retreated.

Eggs were so low in price, recently, at West Frankfort, Ill., that one of the towns' grocers gave away 500 dozens of the hen fruit to his customers in an extraordinary effort to stimulate business.

Availing that her husband was cruel and abusive when he used pancakes to wash her face, Mrs. R. H. Hancock has been granted a divorce in a Springfield (Mass.) court.

Each of the 40 men, who during the last year have completed 59 years of service with the New York, New Haven and Hartford Railroad, have been presented with a diamond pin as a token of good will from the railroad company.

N. W. TO REBUILD STEEL CARRIERS

ROANOKE, Va.—The Norfolk & Western Railway today announced it will rebuild 500 all-steel 37-ton hopper coal cars in its Roanoke Shops. Construction of the equipment is expected to get under way about April 1, upon the completion of an order for 500 new box cars now being built in the local shops. The cars will be turned out at the rate of eight each working day.

The rebuilding of the cars, it was pointed out, will provide employment for about 200 of the railroad's local employees for a period of five months. The labor cost involved will be approximately $100,000.

The cars will be of the usual type now in service on the railroad, and will be known as class HPC. Six thousand cars of this type have been rebuilt since 1927, one thousand of which were rebuilt during the past year. On the completion of the present order, the coal carrying cars rebuilt by the Norfolk & Western since 1921 will total approximately 16,760.

STEAL CAR AND HOLDUP STORE

CLEVELAND, O.—Commandeering the automobile of their first victim, after robbing him of $60 and placing a burly sack over his head, two well-dressed and armed youths today proceeded to hold-up a dry goods store where they obtained $113.

The pair jumped on the running board of the machine driven by Frank Warriner when he stopped for a traffic light and compelled him to drive to an isolated street. Warriner was forced to hand over the $60, after which he was handcuffed, gagged by the sack and placed on the floor in the rear section of the car.

The robbers made one stop before they abandoned the machine and police believe they were the two who robbed Abe Discount of $113 in his dry goods store.

The daring holdups followed a report to police that an assortment of jewels had been taken from the dressing room of Mrs. Harry McFadden, an actress now appearing at the Ohio theater.

WOOL GROWERS OF OHIO ELECT

COLUMBUS, O.—Six new directors were elected by the Ohio Wool Growers' Cooperative Association in session here today, according to an announcement by J. F. Walker of Gambier, secretary of the association.

They are:
A. D. McKelvey of Killbuck, succeeding A. S. Canfield of Millersburg in district 4; C. D. Cury of Napa, succeeding Avery Hale of Mansfield, in district 8; M. O. Cooper of Magnolia, succeeding E. M. Capper of Carrollton, in district 9; Nobel Gunning of Tippicanoe, succeeding Bert Vickers of Piedmont in district 17; Ben Tunis of Zanesville succeeding Frank Ardrey of White Cottage in district 21; and D. C. Bradford of Xenia, succeeding E. R. Hayes of Wilmington in district 25.

The organization meeting, when a new executive committee and officers will be chosen, will be held this afternoon.

The station will broadcast from the high-power transmitter of WENR, through a cooperative arrangement just completed.

The solution of this Chicago radio problem terminates two years fight before the commission and the courts. Several legal actions, one of which reached the supreme court, resulted from the fight between WLS and WENR.

Formerly station WLS occupied five-sevenths time on its clear channel. The Insul station sought half time and on denial of its application by the Radio Commission went to the District of Columbia court of appeals where it was successful. Sometime later the Great Lakes Broadcasting Company, which operated station WENR made the deal with the National Broadcasting Company.

The Insul station was brought into the so-called power trust hearings before the Federal Trade Commission in an incidental way, at the time the question of distribution of propaganda in favor of privately-owned utilities was under scrutiny.

Another Chicago case will come before the Radio Commission Friday with the application of station WBO, of that city, to obtain the use of additional time on its channel. The time sought has been idle for some months. Station WPCC, of Chicago, also is involved in this hearing.

When Memory Fails

THE present season is one of two times during the year when many an individual regrets he had not studied a memory training correspondence course during the winter. The memory course might not improve matters but one always feels that the one unpicked horse will take the purse.

Twice each year the household changes its colors. Each time certain things are stored away and certain other things are resurrected from storage. At the present time winter equipment is being stored in the attic, basement and closet and summer fixtures are being dusted off and repainted for use once more.

Now when these seasonal changes are made careful people put everything where it can be found without a hunt when it is again needed. But no matter how careful they were, six months later the question is "where?"

Last fall great care was taken in putting away for the winter the screws for the screen door, the bolts for the awnings, the oil can and wrench for the lawn mower, the garden hose, road maps, picnic equipment, the many items in the golf outfit and the summer tongs.

Here is one advantage the naked savage has over civilized man. And certainly the office manager, who has his filing system so minutely indexed and cross-indexed that he doesn't know where to start looking for what he wants, is no worse off than the householder who has long since lost the mental filing case he made last fall. Something must be done about it. Perhaps someone can think up something new in a statutory remedy.

After Death

SUPPOSE you and a friend ran away from civilization and built a log cabin in the woods. After finishing, you'd say: "Well, that's a pretty good job for the two of us."

Then, becoming philosophical, you'd add: "Of course, we have to give some credit to the many men, now dead, who invented axes, saws, hammers, and nails for us. Without their efforts, the job would have taken us much longer. In effect, the dead men exercised the same influence as if they were here and helped us."

Look about you and you'll observe that nearly everything you use in daily life is a gift from the dead.

The inventors have passed on. But, through their creations, they continue as active producers.

If all traces of former generations were erased (including inventions, short-cut production methods and fixed wealth, like buildings and roads) it would require eight men to do the work now done by one.

With each generation, the standard of living advances. And each generation flatters itself that it alone is responsible for the advance.

As a matter of fact, most of the advance is a gift from the dead, the accumulation of their efforts and discoveries.

Similarly, we of this generation are preparing the standard of living for generations to follow.

Man thus operates in an unlimited expanse of time.

Human energy and productive effort are immortal.

Think This Over!

BEFORE you mail that order for merchandise to an outside concern think it over a few minutes. Perhaps you'll change your mind about mailing it.

The dollar spent out of town is gone forever.

The dollar spent at home remains and works for you. It circulates at home, either in civic improvements, taxes, better schools, churches, or goes into more merchandise for your next needs.

Your neighbor takes better care of your needs and wants than does the stranger, who has no interest in you, other than to get your dollars. Your merchant-neighbor's future depends upon holding your confidence. He's always here to make mistakes good.

When you spend your money with the home merchants you help them, you assist in fostering home industries. They in turn help to build up the city and to make greater opportunities for you and for your children.

"FOREST LOVE" by HAZEL LIVINGSTON

Nancy Hollenbeck, young, beautiful and romantic, heeds her mother's warning against marrying a poor man and gives up Mat Tully. She accepts the attentions of Jack Beamer who plans to divorce his rich wife and marry Nancy. On a mountain trip, Nancy falls in love with Roger Decatur, a handsome ranger, and marries him. At first she is happy in his mountain cabin, but when he leaves on a long trip, she flees to her home. Without informing her family of her marriage, she re-enters the old social life. Beamer is as ardent as ever, but Nancy repulses his embraces. Roger's letters arouse Mrs. Hollenbeck's suspicions. Nancy pleads with Roger to meet her at a hotel. She waits in vain. Beamer enters the lobby and takes her to tea.

CHAPTER XXXIII.

TWO handsome women at a nearby table nodded friendly greeting. An elderly gentleman in frock coat and pearl gray trousers and a tiny thread of scarlet ribbon in his button hole paused to speak to Jack, to be presented to Nancy.

The head waiter hovered, hissing directions out of the side of his mouth to Henri and the other waiter. Some young girls at another table looked and whispered, wondering who the celebrities were.

Nancy sipped the sealding tea. She nibbled on a sandwich. Ate another, and another ravenously. The color came back in her cheeks. "Feel better?"

"Oh—lots."

He offered a cigarette. "Now tell me all about it."

"About what?" She smiled at him shyly.

"You know—why you were here, and what's the trouble, and all about it. You looked as though you'd lost your last friend."

"I thought I had."

"Not while John Herbert Beamer is alive and kicking, baby. Listen, honey—trust me? Tell me what it was. I know—you lost some money?"

"No, no, no—it's nothing, Jack—nothing."

Tells All.

"Baby, if you needed anything you'd come to me, wouldn't you? You'd let me help you? Tell me what you need—"

"You're too good to me, Jack—you'll spoil me."

"I want to spoil you, damn it! I want you to sit on a cushion, and eat—eat—eat strawberries and cream!"

The tears that she had been holding back for an hour overflew. Her chin quivered. "If he didn't stop sympathizing with her she'd break down and cry all over him."

"If you say another kind word I'll yell. I'm so miserable, you don't know—I can't tell you."

"All of a sudden she was telling him. 'I sat here all day waiting for a man and he didn't come—wasn't that silly of me? Oh, don't laugh, Jack; it isn't funny, really. It's tragic. I haven't told you all that happened this summer. I should have. I don't know why I didn't. There was a ranger—"

"Strong and handsome. They're always strong and handsome. Six feet two in his stocking feet and—"

"Jack, don't laugh at me. I—"

"I'm not laughing, baby. You fell in love with him—is that it? Forget your old Jack eating his heart out for you home—"

"But you were married?"

"I know, sweetheart. You couldn't forget that, could you? I shouldn't have expected you to. I should have got my freedom before I spoke. But damn it—I loved you so—I had to tell you. He looked so big and handsome and honest, leaning over the table to her, loving her with his eyes—forgiving her—"

She hung her head. "I'm sorry," she whispered.

His comforting warm hand closed on hers. "So you thought and when it came to a showdown he didn't make the grade. Is that it?"

"Doesn't look like it," she said through tears.

He began to speak, gently, earnestly. "Nancy, we all make mistakes. I made mine. You almost made yours."

"Oh, I did—I did—"

"Pull yourself together, baby. Powder your nose, there's the girl. Pull your hat a little more over your eyes—that's it. Listen, it doesn't matter. You fell for this fellow, and you thought you were lost money."

"No, no, no—it's nothing, Jack—nothing."

REYNOLDS CO. CONTEST'S ON

WINSTON, SALEM, N. C., Feb.

25.—During the next eight days the country will forget its cross word puzzles, back-gammon and bridge and turn its attention to the more interesting and lucrative pastime of finding the best answers to the question: "What significant change has recently been made in the wrapping of the Camel cigarette and what are its advantages to the smoker?"

For the best answers to the fore- going question, R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company will distribute fifty thousand dollars in cash awards. The first prize will be twenty five thousand dollars in cash. The second, ten thousand, third, five thousand dollars, and numerous other cash awards of from one to five hundred dollars each.

The prize contest marks the be- ginning of an intensive nation-wide advertising campaign to acquaint the public with the advantages of the new tight-sealed moisture- proof cellophane wrapper in which the Camel package is now enclos- ed. While the new method of wrapping adds considerably to the cost of the manufacture, the con- sumer will not be required to pay more than the usual price for his Camels.

According to the announcement of the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. practically every daily, county seat weekly, financial and college newspaper in the country will be used in its new advertising cam- paign, as well as a coast to coast radio hook up and other forms of advertising media.

The first announcement of the $50,000.00 prize contest will appear in full page advertisements in Wednesday's newspapers in which full details of the contest will be given.

The contest will close at mid- night, Wednesday, March 4. The judges selected to pick the winning answers are Charles Dana Gibson, international famous artist and publisher of Life Magazine, Roy Howard, Chairman of the Board of the Scripps-Howard newspapers and Ray Long, President of Inter- national Magazine Company and editor of Cosmopolitan Magazine. Winners will be announced as soon after the closing of the contest as practical.

According to the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratories, in cigarettes wrapped in moisture-proof cello- phane and sealed under the Rey- nolds new tight-sealed method, the moisture loss is only a fraction of that of cigarettes wrapped with ordinary cellophane or the glassine paper now in general use. The new Humidor Camel package, it is claimed, preserves the freshness and flavor of the tobacco for a long period of time and delivers the cigarette to the smoker in prime condition.

Did you ever stop to think?

HARRIS ELLSWORTH, EDITOR

OF THE ROSSBURGH (OREGON) NEWS REVIEW, SAYS:

"The principal trouble with busi- ness, (retail business, I mean) as I see it is just this: Merchants need to make just a little harder effort to get business. Let me illustrate with an example which is a defini- tion of three well known words:

"An OPTIMIST is a man who, when he is told the wolf is at the door, refuses to believe a word of it and therefore opening his door thus unprepared is promptly gob- bled up by the wolf.

"A PESSIMIST, upon learning that the wolf is at the door, be- lieves it is no use to struggle fur- ther so he opens the door and gives himself up to the wolf.

"An OPPORTUNIST, however, learns with interest that a wolf is at his door. After studying the situation thoroughly, he lures the wolf into the house and emerges after a brief interval clad in a new wolf coat!"

"The record of business failures is filled with the names of business Optimists and business Pessimists. You find few Opportunists there."

"Any business man who owns a business that is really entitled to success (many should never have been started in the first place) can succeed if he will study his field, his market, his merchandise and his customers and then use a sen- sible amount of newspaper adver- tising and use it SERIOUSLY."

"Newspaper advertising is a pro- ven force if properly used. Many retailers have become dissatisfied because they, themselves, lacked the energy and the applied intelligence to use the newspaper space to make money for them. Lay Foundation For Health in Childhood

—Teach Children Value of Hygiene

Dr. Copeland Urges Parents to Co-operate with the School Authorities in Giving Youngsters a Start on the Road to Lasting Health.

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.,

United States Senator from New York,
Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

CHILDREN are the victims of common ailments, many of which are preventable. The contagious diseases of childhood are transmitted from one child to another. This can be avoided by proper care and much unnecessary suffering prevented.

Simple hygienic rules taught during childhood greatly influence the future health of the individual. It is believed by most authorities that the ideal place for this instruction is in the school.

I believe this an excellent plan, but such teaching should not end there. It should be practiced, em- phasized and repeated at home. Home teaching is sometimes more convin- cing than the instruction received at school. Where the home environ- ment is not as ideal as it should be, the instruction at school is vitally essential.

Children should be taught at an early age the value and use of the handkerchief. They should be in- structed how to protect the nose and mouth when coughing or sneezing and given the reasons why.

They should be warned against the common habit of placing fingers and pencils in the mouth. Every child should be carefully instructed in the necessity of washing the hands with soap and water frequently during the day. This habit should be acquired as soon as possible. Everybody, young and old, should remember the necessity of having clean hands before eating.

Brushing the teeth upon arising and at retiring should be made a part of the daily routine of every child. This responsibility should be- gin at as early an age as possible.

To insure health among our young- sters, it is advisable that they be examined periodically. Strict attention must be given to posture. Ear, eye, nose, throat, dental and other possible de- fects, should be discovered as soon as possible. When these are correct- ed in early life, much undue and un- necessary suffering is escaped in later life.

These are mere hints. But I do want you to know that the welfare of the child and the state of adult health are founded on the health practices of youth.

COURT DECISION AFFIRMS DRY LAW AMENDMENT THRU NATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The unanimity and vigor with which the Supreme Court reversed the Clark decision and affirmed that the 18th amendment is legally nailed into the constitution probably means the end of all such legal assaults on the validity of the prohibition laws.

In the eleven years since prohibition, the Supreme Court has steadily returned decisions favorable to the drys and unfavorable to the opponents of prohibition. Twice now the highest court has sustained the validity of the amendment itself. And on numerous occasions it has upheld the constitutionality of the Volstead Act, directly or indirectly.

VICTORIES FEW
The only victories the opponents of prohibition could point to today in more than a decade of litigation and assault on the legality of the various dry laws were minor ones affecting the search-and-seizure provisions. And they are relatively unimportant. When projected against the whole background of the prohibition structure.

Consequently, the opponents of prohibition were generally agreed today, as they studied the clear and vigorous language of the decision in the Clark case, that it is hardly worth while to longer attack the problem through the United States Supreme Court.

There remain, then, they agreed, but three avenues through which to seek corrective action:

1. Outright repeal of the amendment.
2. Revision.
3. Nullification.

MANY DIFFICULTIES
The difficulties besetting either course are admittedly enormous—despite the very evident shift in popular sentiment away from prohibition in the last few years, and despite the equally evident failure of enforcement in large centers of population.

STATE TAXES COST FARMER

COLUMBUS, O.—More than a fourth of the average farmer's income—27 per cent—goes to pay taxes, L. H. Palmer, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation today told delegates to the annual meeting of the Ohio Tax Association here. The average percentage of income diverted to taxation in other lines is seven per cent, he said.

What Ohio needs is NOT additional taxes but replacement taxes, Palmer asserted. He declared that the burden must be lifted from real estate.

"In many parts of the state the taxes paid are divided about as follows: 75 per cent for roads and schools; 23 per cent for local and county government, and two per cent for state expenditures.

"Roads and schools must be maintained," he declared, "We therefore favor having motor transport interests paying highway costs through gasoline tax and license fees and there must be a reallocation of these taxes and a proper distribution of their revenue to replace the tax we hope to take from real property.

"As to schools," Palmer said, "we must look to federal and state aid for part of their maintenance."

The personal income tax is the "most fair," Palmer said, on the basis of services rendered, benefits received and ability to pay.

REQUEST USE OF OHIO BRICK

COLUMBUS, O.—Appealing to Governor White's personal leanings toward economy, a delegation of Muskingum and Guernsey county farmers today had deposited with him a protest against the use of brick in the proposed construction of 9,737 miles of state highway between Zanesville and Columbus.

The project will cost $136,000 less if concrete instead of brick is used, five farmers, who said they represent 300 taxpayers in vicinity of the proposed road, told the governor yesterday.

Petitions of protest, bearing signatures of 300 farmers, were left with the governor at the close of the visit.

Governor White promised the delegation, which included S. W. Elliott, Fred Elliott, George J. Elliott and John G. Holladay of Chambersville, and Foster Scott of Cumberland, that he will discuss their objections with State Highway Director O. W. Merrell.

Merrell's February letting program lists brick and concrete paving as alternatives. The final decision rests with the highway director. The delegation fears he will select brick.

"I promise you your petitions will be given fair consideration," the governor assured the delegation.

The brick manufacturers and their friends alone want the road between Zanesville and Cumberland constructed of brick, the governor was told.

The road is situated in Salt Creek and Rich Hill townships in Muskingum counties and Spencer township and Guernsey county, and would cost between $288,855 and $381,591, according to Director Merrell's figures.

ROSS-CO FAVORS GAS TAX CHANGE

COLUMBUS, O.—Declaring he believes it will be a "material help to Ross-co," Rep. Robert Polen (D) of Chillicothe, today announced that he will support the Sechrist-Bostwick bill, providing for a reappointment of the state gasoline tax funds.

The measure, which is primarily designed to increase the amount allotted to the townships throughout the state, is under consideration by the house taxation committee.

"I am taking an active interest in behalf of this measure," Rep. Polen said. "I believe it will be of material help to Ross-co. The township and secondary roads in our county are greatly in need of improvement at the earliest possible date."

"Enactment of the bill into law will provide increased funds which will enable the townships to hasten the improvements of their highways."

As the bill is now set up, the share of township's will be increased from five to ten per cent.

MONEY WORRIES CAUSES SUICIDE

CINCINNATI, O.—Financial reverses were accepted by authorities today as explanation of the suicide of Lawrence Ach, 45, New York, who ended his life Tuesday night by firing a bullet into his temple.

The suicide victim was a son of Hamilton Co. Commissioner, Samuel Ach.

Ach was removed from the office of Max Stern in the Mercantile Library Building and rushed to Cincinnati General Hospital where he died in a few minutes after arrival.

Ach, who had come to Cincinnati, and children might have the $1,500, evidently had made careful plans for his end. Four letters addressed to relatives were found on the desk beside which he had been sitting.

"Wild speculations" leading to heavy financial losses and desire to sacrifice himself that his wife and children might have the $1,500, for which he was insured, were given by Ach as reason for his suicide.

HOW TO BORROW.

Any eligible farmer or tenant wishing to borrow money under the Seed Loan Act, may secure the proper blanks and information from his county agricultural agent or county committee. Money may be borrowed for seed, fertilizer, feed, fuel or oil up to $600, based on requirements of the applicant, at the rate of $2.50 per acre for the purchase of materials for spraying and dusting to protect tobacco; $5.00 per acre for truck crops; up to $30 per acre for the purchase of fertilizer and spraying materials for bearing fruit trees; $2.00 per acre for seed loans for corn, cotton, oats and tobacco; $5.00 on other crops, and a maximum of $25 per acre on potatoes and sweet potatoes. The recipient must give a note and prior mortgage on his 1931 crop to secure the loan which falls due Nov. 30, 1931. Interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum will be charged for the period of the loan.

NEW FACES IN "AG" DEPARTMENT

Appointments to seven major positions in the Department of Agriculture and abolishing one job in the department have been announced by I. S. Guthery, State Director of Agriculture. The job abolished is that of assistant commissioner of Conservation, formerly held by Carl L. Van Voorhis, Republican of Mt. Vernon, at a salary of $4,000 a year.

Those appointed by Guthery are: Dr. George Pierce of Marion, Chief of the Division of Animal Industry, succeeding C. McCandless of Salem, at a salary of $3,600 a year.

W. D. Leach, Columbus, chief of the Division of Foods and Dairies, succeeding O. J. Bailey, of Tacoma, at a salary of $3,000 per year.

G. J. McCurry, Columbus, formerly of Democratic state headquarters, Chief of the Bureau of Inland Lakes and Parks, succeeding Frank G. Adams at a salary of $3,000 a year.

W. W. Ellenwood of Coalton, Chief of the Division of Plant Industry, succeeding E. C. Cotton, Republican, of Elyria, at a salary of $3,000 a year.

E. L. Leas of Delaware, Chief of the Division of Feeds and Fertilizers, succeeding D. M. Odaffer, Republican, of Bucyrus, at a salary of $3,000 a year.

Mrs. Lucile Brick, Columbus, confidential secretary, at a salary of $2,000 per year.

Clay E. Harmon of Marys, chief of the bureau of conservation officers, succeeding F. M. Lytle of Wadsworth, at a salary of $3,000 per year.

COONS FOR RESTOCKING

The coon hunting clan, than whom there are no more ardent outdoorsmen, have succeeded in impressing the Conservation Division with the need for restocking coon in adaptable sections of the state, and definite assurances have been given that restocking will begin this year. These ring-tailed, nocturnal court jesters have perhaps the greatest hold of all the Ohio fur bearers on the popular fancy. Their extinction is threatened if restocking is not resorted to, it is declared by the night hunters and trappers.

THERE IS NO "FLU CURE"

The Ohio Food and Dairy Division has been advised that although the variety of products advertised as having curative or preventive value for flu, la grippe, pneumonia and related diseases, is large, there is no medical authority to indicate that aspirin, nasal sprays, throat gargles, cod liver oil tablets, milk of magnesia, and similar preparations, or fruits or other food products, have any power to check the course of any one of these maladies.

"Any manufacturer who attempts to cash in on the public's fear of influenza by selling preparations represented by label or by circular accompanying the package as preventives or treatments for flu, la grippe, pneumonia, and related diseases, renders his product liable to seizure and himself to prosecution under the food and drugs act," officials declare, and warn that "The Federal Food and Drug Administration intends to take immediate action against any such manufacturer."

POP CORN OVERDONE

Indications now point to the possibility that pop corn growing may be overdone in 1931, say specialists of the Department of Agriculture. Pop corn prices, they point out, are very sensitive to supply, and price. A bumper crop to overproduction have been in the past. After a few years of fairly normal production, a short crop occurs as the result of unfavorable weather or other causes, the price rises to a figure attractive to growers. Immediately many new producers appear who flood the market with disastrous effects to the old growers as well as to themselves.

PETROLLE AND TUT TO FIGHT

Fargo Express After Revenge For Recent Shellacking at Hands of King.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The sixth chapter of a five-year ring feud will be unrolled at Madison Square Garden tonight when Billy Petrolle, veteran lightweight of Fargo, N. D., takes one more crack at his nemesis, King Tut. The latter is a 3 to 2 favorite. The bout is scheduled to go 10 rounds, but the consensus of opinion is that the tow-headed Minneapolis junior welterweight will derail the Fargo Express as he did at St. Paul recently when he put the crusher on Petrolle in half a minute, knocking out Billy before the latter could get out of his corner. Previously the pair had broken even in four encounters.

Petrolle's belief that he will even the score tonight is shared by many New Yorkers who saw him put up a stiff battle against Jack (Kid) Berg and whip the supposedly invincible Jimmy McLarnin. Billy also handed Tony Canzoneri a shellacking last September. After being sent to the hospital by Tut late in 1929, Petrolle made a remarkable comeback and was considered a leading contender for the lightweight and welterweight titles until Tut ruined him again a few weeks ago.

Petrolle says he will retire if Tut beats him again tonight. The latter is so confident of victory that he has posted a forfeit of $2,500 with the Illinois boxing commission for a match with Young Corbett 3d, at the Chicago stadium on March 30. The California welterweight has put up a like amount.

watched when they tangle this evening. Spangler and Beounger proved to be excellent guards and Charlie Morris and Jim Hartranft came through with goals to sew up the game.

SCHLEGEL HITS

Although Ashville's lasses started slowly, their offensive began functioning in a short time and they easily turned back Monroe's challenge. Miss Schlegel kept her team going with neat goals early in the game until Miss Young began scoring and from then on it was too bad. The periods, with Ashville always in the lead, ended 4-3; 14-8; 23-10 and 26-18.

With its rapid-fire short pass attack working smoothly after a slow start, Pickaway-twip continued its drive for tournament recognition Thursday evening eliminating Scioto-twip's champions 26-13. Early in the game the P's was nip and tuck with Pickaway losing the ball often on poor passes, but after the first period things happened.

With Graves and Estell doing most of the scoring and Anderson playing a marvelous floor game the score rapidly climbed. The work of Don Dunkle on the defense for the Meyer-lads was outstanding. Trego scores 5 duouq, qm squd g c mna su jo son playing a good defensive game.

The score by periods was 5-5; 8-5; 16-6 and 26-13 with Pickaway leading after the first period. Then came the most exciting game of the tournament to date.

Walnut turned back a Pickaway-zephyr threat that started like a mere zephyr and expanded until it reached typhoon dimensions in the final period. With Miss Rhodes tossing the leather through the hoop from every possible angle inside the foul-line, Pickaway made things plenty hot for the Walnut team and at the end of the regulation play had knotted the tally, 21-21.

But in the overtime the Walnut offense of Aldenderfer, Brown and Hanover scored seven points against three for the losers.

WALNUT AHEAD

Walnut started like a house afire and at the end of the first period held a 10-0 lead. In the second period Pickaway climbed until at halftime the score was 13-12 in favor of Walnut. In the third period Walnut went ahead 17 to 14, but at the end of the fourth period Miss Rhodes had made it possible for her team to tie the score. Sensation after sensation was uncovered in this last period with the Pickaway team going ahead by one point then losing its margin.

In the overtime Miss Rhodes scored a goal to put her team ahead and Miss French tallied a foul shot but Aldenderfer counted a goal. Brown counted two foul shots and Hanover tallied three.

MAY EXAMINE HI OFFICIALS

COLUMBUS, O.—Ohio High School Athletic Association members, numbering 1,175, next month will be sent questionnaires seeking their opinions on a proposal to compel all football and basketball officials to become accredited by the organization before officiating at any of the games.

Final action will be taken by the Ohio High School Athletic board if a majority of the schools express favor of the idea, according to H. H. Townsend, scholastic athletic commissioner of the state organization.

Commissioner Townsend Wednesday had returned to his office in Columbus after attending the annual National Federation of High School Athletic Associations' convention and an Ohio high school athletic board meeting in Detroit Sunday and Monday.

The Buckeye board had been making a study of the accredited system and is said to have reported favorably on it at the Detroit meeting.

over-head shots, each for one point.

Miss Rhodes carried off scoring honors with eight goals and two free thrown for 18 points. Aldenderfer led Walnut's scoring.

If the games Friday evening are as sensational as those Thursday it is certain that a great part of the 910 who paid admissions Thursday will go home on stretchers.

CONTINUE HUNT FOR LOST FLYER

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 27.—Authorities continued their search today for Edna May Cooper, motion picture actress and co-holder of the world's endurance flight record for women.

Miss Cooper was first reported missing two days ago by her mother who said she had left their home Tuesday and had not been seen since. The aviatrix was wearing $4,000 worth of jewelry when she disappeared, police were told.

SEEK CLUBBER

TIFFIN, O.—Local police and Seneca-co authorities today sought a clubber who attacked, beat and robbed LaVonne Magers, 15-year-old Tiffin girl, who was found unconscious in the street by Louis Shutt, a taxi driver.

Five dollars had been taken from the girl's purse. Physicians reported her condition as serious.

At a wedding breakfast at Alcobaca, Portugal, 70 guests became very ill after they drank wine which the police believe had been poisoned by a castoff sweetheart of the bridegroom.

PROBAC DOUBLE-EDGE BLADES

LIVESTOCK CO-OP MARKS ARE ALL SMASHED IN PAST YEAR

All records were broken in the cooperative marketing of live stock in Ohio during 1930, J. R. Allgyer, Secretary of the Ohio Live Stock Cooperative Association, reported at the Eleventh Annual meeting of the organization at Columbus, Friday morning, Feb. 27.

In his report, Mr. Allgyer said "In spite of the drought, depression and an estimated decrease of 3.85 per cent of available live stock in the state, your organization handled a total of 11,857 floors, a gain of 566 floors of five per cent over 1929, and with less live stock available, makes the record for this last year all the more creditable. This volume was represented in 103,571 individual shipments, a gain of 4.9 per cent. "A conservative estimate would indicate this live stock was produced by at least 60,000 farmers. The total volume for the year was 144,480,803 pounds, or four per cent over the high mark of 1929. The value of this stock was $15,150,659.53. The decrease in total value is the one feature of the report in which we cannot rejoice yet which was not in the power of the producer or your association to control.

"These 1930 shipments consisted of 535,548 hogs, 56,412 calves, 35,020 cattle and 219,474 sheep, a total of 846,454 head, which is an increase of 42,787 head or 5.3 per cent. In addition, the amount of stock trucked direct to the terminal market of which no summary record is made by the state association has shown a corresponding increase.

"An item of interest to all of us is the noticeable decrease in losses in transit and the consequent lower demand on insurance reserves. The decrease amounts to $8,391.45 or 2.75 per cent less than the 1929 low record. This is a real improvement and indicates what can be accomplished by careful handling. Certainly the efforts and publicity given to this matter by the Livestock Loss Prevention Association of Ohio are most commendable and worth-while. Every effort should be expended to continue this campaign of less reduction. It is one of the services of the co-operatives and deserves the hearty support of each trucker, shipper and association in the state.

"Your Producers' sales and service on the Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Cincinnati and Buffalo terminal markets provided the farmers of Ohio and other states with the best service on these markets. The fact that line dealers and speculators (individuals ordinarily bitter toward the cooperative movement) are patronizing your associations should be prima facie evidence that your organizations are rendering service second to none at the same charge made for the poorest service.

"The total value of the live stock handled by these four Producer agencies for the year amounted to $26,037,787.54. Each showed a substantial net saving for the year the total for the four houses after all expenses of operations were paid amounting to $70,943.84. These four houses in their eight or less years of operation have saved out of commissions received a total of half a million dollars, have refunded back to the producers during this period a quarter of a million and have remaining a net reserve and surplus of a quarter million. To this amount we must add an additional sum of approximately $150,000 represented in equipment, reserves and savings of our county and local associations."

Friday's sessions are devoted to the business discussions and elections of the live stock association. In addition to the reports of F. G. Lytle, Hillsboro, president, and the secretary, the program for the day includes discussions on "Trucking Developments in Ohio" by George F. Henning, Rural Economics Department of the Ohio State University; "Area Trucking" by A. L. Sorensen, Agricultural Agent of Holmes county; "Market Unit or Area Developments" by C. W.

INVITE FRIENDS TO RECEPTION

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Junk, Austin, O., parents of Mrs. John W. Smith of Williamsport are extending invitations to all friends to an open house reception on Monday, March 2 from 2 to 5 o'clock when they will celebrate their sixtieth wedding anniversary.

In all these six decades of married life, there has been only one death to break the family chain, which comprises eight children, fifteen grand-children and four great grand-children.

The life of 14-year-old James Carr was saved with the aid of a large United States flag which was used, because rope was unavailable, to pull the boy from the well into which he had fallen at his home, near Charleroi, Pa.

After Joseph Stolerz, a crazed Lawrence (Mass.) man, had thrown boiling water on his 19 year old son and inflicted nine wounds on his wife with a hatchet, Stolerz plunged through a second-story window to the pavement where he was captured by the police.

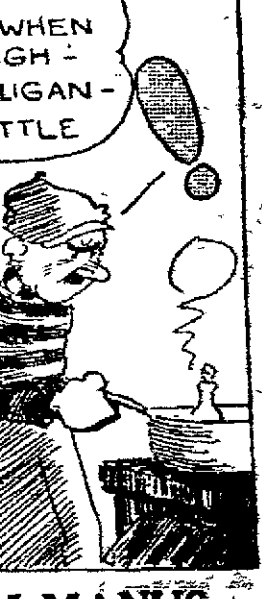

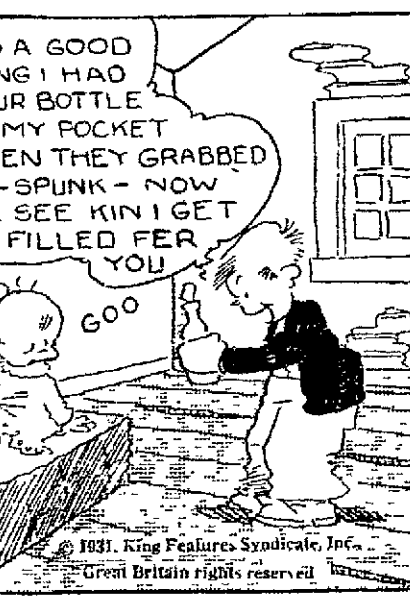

The seventy-first congress has proved that one can mix politics and finance.

SIX NEGROES GO TO DEATH

First Time in History of State That Many are Executed; All Murderers.

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 27.—Six confessed negro slayers were put to death in the electric chair at the state prison this morning in a series of executions that began at 5:03 and ended at 6:58 o'clock. The executions were carried out quietly and without incident. Colonel J. N. Pearson, superintendent of the prison said. Five of the negroes died for the murder of S. Wilbur Hendrix, Lexington-co merchant, in a holdup and the other was executed for the slaying of C. D. Mills, Lexington-co night watchman.

Four of the negroes were baptized yesterday and these were the first to go in the series of death marches that began at 5 o'clock and continued for virtually two hours.

Ministers consoled the condemned men in their cells after they were awakened shortly before 4 o'clock. All six had slept soundly. Robert Eldridge, John A. Wright, John Byrd, Ernest Thomas and James Hickman were executed for the slaying of Hendrix. The sixth, Tillman Poozer, was put to death for the murder of the night watchman.

It was the first time in the history of the state that six persons were executed on the same day, and the first time that all six of the death cells in the state prison were occupied.

The execution followed failure of last minute efforts yesterday to obtain a writ of habeas corpus from the state supreme court. W. G. Gibbs, former mayor of Columbia and Dr. Josiah Morse, head of the University of South Carolina's department of psychology, applied for the writ on the contention that the negroes had not been convicted by due process of law.

TWO EXECUTED

OSHING, N. Y., Feb. 27.—To the long list of persons executed by Robert Elliott, official executioner in New York, today were added the names of Anthony Luciano and Anthony Vellucia.

Elliott pulled the controls last night that put the two men to death in the electric chair at Sing Sing prison. They were convicted of the murder of Libero Barnell, an oil station attendant, in a holdup near Amsterdam, N. Y. Luciano, who for days had refused to eat more than a few morsels of food, had to be carried to the chair. Vellucia was stoical.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Harden have moved from the residence of Miss Edith Haswell on W. Union-st to the Drum residence on Watt-st.

Miss Martha Mary Jacob spent a day this week with Mrs. Donald Morris in Chillicothe.

WANT RELIEF BILL RUSHED

Mildren to Introduce $80,000 Measure Monday Night; Would Aid South Ohio

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 27.—The $80,000 emergency appropriation bill for Ohio unemployment relief will be submitted to the legislature Monday night by Representative E. J. Mildren, Democrat of Marietta, chosen because he comes from the heart of the jobless area it was announced today.

Confident that the House of Representatives will suspend its rules to allow introduction of the emergency measure two weeks after the dead line for presentation of bills was expressed by Adjutant General Frank D. Henderson, chairman of Gov. White's relief cabinet, which drafted the plan.

Governor White hopes the bill can be rushed through the house without opposition and be sent promptly to the senate.

If it gets immediate approval in both branches of the Assembly employment for scores of jobless men in counties throughout the drought and unemployment areas can be supplied within two or three weeks.

The Mildren bill would immediately furnish $15,000 to fill pay envelopes for now unemployed men in Ross, Scioto, Vinton, Lawrence, Athens and Washington counties where dozens will be put to work cutting and planting trees and building road trails and fire lanes on 60,000 acres of state forest land.

The confession, the focal point of a clash between prosecutors and defense attorneys yesterday afternoon, describes in detail the liquor orgy which ended in the girl's death, authorities say. Kirkland is the first of five youths to go on trial for the girl's death. All are charged with having assaulted her.

tacking the philosophy of the project, the senate seemed deaf, the legislation moved on to the statute books.

Throughout his message the President indicated his willingness that veterans in distress should be cared for, but he observed: "The breach of fundamental principle in this proposal is the requirement of the federal government to provide an enormous sum of money to a vast majority who are able to care for themselves and who are caring for themselves."

Strangely enough even supporters of the bonus loan proposal in the senate expressed the same thought. On the other hand, Senator Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, and others reiterated no extra burden would be placed on the treasury and that it was the soldiers' money after all.

An attempt was made to get immediate action in the senate shortly after the action of the house. Sen. Johnson (R) of California, interrupted debate on the second deficiency bill, and unsuccessfully sought to have the veto message laid before the senate.

CONSIDER VETO
Later, he declared his purpose was to prevent it being held in "somebody's pocket" thereby delaying action. He later agreed that he was willing to give full opportunity "within reason" to those who wanted to speak on the veto, and accepted a proposition that consideration should be begun as soon as the senate met today and continue until disposed of. Senator Reed had sought to set a definite time to vote with a limitation of fifteen minutes to each senator, but Senator LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin, objected. As it stands there is no limit to the debate, but there was no indication of a disposition to unduly delay the inevitable action of the senate.

Governor White hopes the bill can be rushed through the house without opposition and be sent promptly to the senate.

If it gets immediate approval in both branches of the Assembly employment for scores of jobless men in counties throughout the drought and unemployment areas can be supplied within two or three weeks.

The Mildren bill would immediately furnish $15,000 to fill pay envelopes for now unemployed men in Ross, Scioto, Vinton, Lawrence, Athens and Washington counties where dozens will be put to work cutting and planting trees and building road trails and fire lanes on 60,000 acres of state forest land.

CONFESSION IS BEING FOUGHT

VALPARAISO, Ind., Feb. 27.—Judge Grant Crumpacker today was to rule on the admission of a purported confession made by Virgil Kirkland, Gary high school gridiron star on trial for the attack and murder of 18-year-old Arlene Draves who died in a Gary liquor revel Nov. 30.

The confession, the focal point of a clash between prosecutors and defense attorneys yesterday afternoon, describes in detail the liquor orgy which ended in the girl's death, authorities say. Kirkland is the first of five youths to go on trial for the girl's death. All are charged with having assaulted her.

ACTRESS SUES FOR DAMAGES

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 27.—Corinne Griffith, motion picture star, today had on file in municipal court a suit for $236 against Mr. and Mrs. Ray Henderson, of Beverly Hills for alleged damage to furniture in a house owned by her. Miss Griffith charged that she rented the house to the defendants at $1,000 a month and that some of the furniture was damaged.

BROWN IS ILL

Virgil Brown, E. Mound-st, court house janitor is confined to his home with illness. Emmett Brown of Ashville is acting in the capacity of custodian in his brother's absence.

HOOVER POWER

tacking the philosophy of the project, the senate seemed deaf, the legislation moved on to the statute books.

Throughout his message the President indicated his willingness that veterans in distress should be cared for, but he observed:

"The breach of fundamental principle in this proposal is the requirement of the federal government to provide an enormous sum of money to a vast majority who are able to care for themselves and who are caring for themselves."

Strangely enough even supporters of the bonus loan proposal in the senate expressed the same thought. On the other hand, Senator Vandenberg (R) of Michigan, and others reiterated no extra burden would be placed on the treasury and that it was the soldiers' money after all.

An attempt was made to get immediate action in the senate shortly after the action of the house. Sen. Johnson (R) of California, interrupted debate on the second deficiency bill, and unsuccessfully sought to have the veto message laid before the senate.

CONSIDER VETO

Later, he declared his purpose was to prevent it being held in "somebody's pocket" thereby delaying action. He later agreed that he was willing to give full opportunity "within reason" to those who wanted to speak on the veto, and accepted a proposal that consideration should be begun as soon as the senate met today and continue until disposed of.

Senator Reed had sought to set a definite time to vote with a limitation of fifteen minutes to each senator, but Senator LaFollette (R) of Wisconsin, objected. As it stands there is no limit to the debate, but there was no indication of a disposition to unduly delay the inevitable action of the senate.
